

APPLICATION FOR HONORS IN LEADERSHIP STUDIES

The Jepson faculty offers a track by which students with a proven academic record of intellectual initiative and scholarly drive can earn honors in leadership studies. The honors track provides students the opportunity to develop a research project on a particular question in the study of leadership and to spend a full academic year working on this project with a Jepson faculty member. Students are expected to engage in rigorous and original research that will enrich and complement their previous study of leadership and contribute to the academic community of the Jepson School.

1. Please complete the following information:

Student Name: _____ Student ID: _____

Academic Advisor: _____ Current Class Year: _____

Campus Address: _____

Email: _____ Phone: _____

Second Major/Minor/Concentration: _____

2. Please list the names of two University of Richmond faculty members, one of whom should be a Jepson School faculty member, whom the associate dean for academic affairs may contact for a reference:

UR Faculty Member #1: _____

UR Faculty Member #2: _____

3. Please confirm qualifications:

- I am a Jepson major.
- I have a 3.3 cumulative GPA or better.
- I have at least a 3.3 leadership studies GPA.
- I have earned a B or higher in at least four leadership studies courses.

4. On the next page, in 600 words or less, please describe your intellectual interests and how these interests might grow into an original research project in leadership studies. (Your intellectual research interests may change as you progress along the honors track.)

5. Return completed form via e-mail to Michele Bedsaul (mbedsaul@richmond.edu) or print it out and place it in the Jepson School drop box located outside Jepson 122

APPLICATION DEADLINE: No later than 5 p.m. on Friday, September 29.

SAVE

PRINT

In 600 words or fewer, please describe your intellectual interests and how these interests might grow into an original research project in leadership studies.